Vineyard

This selection came from Mike Etzel's home vineyard, Sequitur, located at 425 feet elevation on a southeast slope of the Ribbon Ridge AVA. Soils: Marine Sedimentary, Willakenzie series. Farming: Biodynamic. Clones : Chalone, unclassified, and Pommard.

Winemaking

This year's exploration of the Sequitur Vineyard yielded a unique 5-barrel composition. The majority of this bottling was a union of a secret suitcase clone and the Chalone clone fermented together, 35% whole bunch. The other portion came from a single tank of untouched whole cluster Pinot that was left to ferment for 20 days. Rich cocoa-laced plum meets brambly blue fruit with a pop of bubble gum. Naturally fermented using partial whole cluster, this wine presents the best of Ribbon Ridge but with an independent streak.

The wines were aged in neutral oak for 10 months and bottled unfinned and unfiltered.
